

Fritz Reuter Altenheim is Getting a New Roof on Their Independent Living Quarters.

Fritz Reuter Altenheim is one of the oldest non-profit old age homes in the Hudson County, NY area. Fritz Reuter Altenheim was founded in 1897 and has since been run by a group of dedicated German American citizens, who volunteer valuable time almost on a daily basis. They provide a clean and healthy environment for the home's residents.

Pfister Roofing is now in the process of completing the home's third roofing project. The first was on the Independent Living Building where a shingle-faced mansard roof was replaced with metal. Later, the oldest portion of the main building was restored by installing commercial metal siding. Both have the patina-type green color, which blends in extremely well with the overall building design.

The roof that is now being restored is a single-ply flat roof, where once again the highest regard was paid to the selection of materials, insulation and roofing materials. Dieter Pfisterer is extremely proud to have been awarded this project.

Dieter has promised to put forth the energy in not only restoring this roof, but also in making sure that the Fritz Reuter Altenheim receives the best of care on all of its other exterior building projects, since he is now a board member. Dieter's vast knowledge in building physics will hopefully provide cost savings to the home.

If you live in the North Bergen area, the Fritz Reuter Altenheim is a home where quality care is provided in a clean and friendly atmosphere.
